

Milosevic was indicted on charges of genocide, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. The indictment was issued by the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY) in The Hague. The charges were based on evidence gathered by the ICTY, including testimony from survivors and victims, and evidence from the ground. The indictment was a landmark moment in the history of international law, as it was the first time a head of state had been indicted for crimes committed on his own territory. The indictment was also a landmark moment in the history of the ICTY, as it was the first time the tribunal had issued an indictment.
